St. James's, March 14.

THE following humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Reverend Dr. Gooch, Deputy Vice-Chancellor, attended by many of the Heads of Houſes, Doctors, and other Members of that Univerſity; and accompanied by ſeveral Biſhops and Deans of the ſaid Univerſity; introduced by his Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Chamberlain of His Majeſty's Houſhold.

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

May it pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WHILE our Fellow-Subjects are haſtening from all Parts of the Kingdom to expreſs their Concern and Zeal for your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, ſhould We alone be ſilent, who were ſo early, and have been ſo often diſtinguiſh'd by your particular Favour, the World might juſtly reproach us, and (which is leſs tolerable to ingenuous Minds) we ſhould certainly reproach ourſelves.

Tho' it is not poſſible for us to forget your Majeſty's repeated Favours to this Univerſity, whenever we have the Honour to appear in your Royal Preſence, yet we come not now to acknowledge private Kindneſſes done to ourſelves, but to pay our juſt Tribute of Thanks for far more extended Benefits accruing to the whole Kingdom through the Wiſdom of your Majeſty's Counſels.

We ſtand before our Patron and our King, greatly indebted, and highly ſenſible of our Obligations in both Views; but as the Liberty which we enjoy as Engliſhmen, and the Religion which we profeſs as Proteſtants, are of all earthly Bleſſings the greateſt, and without which all others would ſoon become vain and inſignificant; 'tis to your Royal Care and Vigilance over theſe common Bleſſings, in which every Briton has a Share, that we come now to pay an Acknowledgement, of which our Hearts are full, and which we feel far more ſenſibly than we can expreſs.

When we ſee your Majeſty threatned with the Dangers of a foreign War, and Princes once highly indebted to your Majeſty and your People conſpiring to invade your Kingdoms; and yet no Injuſtice, no Breach of Faith laid to your Majeſty's Charge, nothing demanded of you that can be granted without a manifeſt Violation of the juſt Rights of our Country; what can we think, but that your Majeſty is moleſted for being, and reſolving to be the Father of your Country, for refuſing to ſacrifice the Rights of your People to the Eaſe and Tranquility of your own Time? Narrow ſpirited Princes may be willing to compound with Dangers, and to ſhift off preſent Evils, leaving them a certain and increaſing Burden to Poſterity: But your Majeſty has choſen the nobler, as well as the wiſer Part, to meet the Danger, and to ſhew the ambitious Spirits which trouble the World, and think Force a ſufficient Title to every thing within their Reach, that you are afraid of nothing but of doing Wrong, and are prepared and reſolved to maintain your own and your Peoples Rights.

They who demand our Trade out of our Hands now, can only mean to put themſelves and us in ſuch a State, that they may ſafely make larger Demands upon us at a more convenient Seaſon. Could their Policy prevail, could they be ſo ſucceſsful as to ſee themſelves growing in Riches and Power, and this Nation languiſhing and declining in both, the next Demand would probably be for the Throne itſelf; and what is that but to demand of every Engliſhman a Surrender of his Liberty and Religion, and every Thing elſe for the Sake of which 'tis worth Living?

Theſe Views at preſent are thought proper to be concealed: 'Tis part of a ſecret Treaty only to place the Pretender upon the Throne of theſe Kingdoms: But this will no longer be a Secret when it may ſafely be own'd; and every Diminution of the Trade, and Riches of this Country, makes it ſafer to own, and eaſier to execute ſuch Deſigns. As little as we may be ſuppoſed to underſtand the Affairs of Trade, we ſee enough to make us Parties in the common Concern of the Nation, and to kindle in us a juſt Reſentment againſt every Attempt upon it by Fraud or Force.

We have ſeen ourſelves and our Fellow-Subjects ſo long in a State of Happineſs and Satisfaction under your Majeſty's auſpicious Government, that we had Reaſon to think the Pretender quite forgotten; but ſince your Enemies Abroad have embraced the vain and deluſive Hopes which your Enemies at Home ſeem in great Meaſure to have laid aſide, we beg Leave to repeat the ſolemn Aſſurances often given, and always remember'd by us, that we will, to the utmoſt of our Power and Ability, ſupport your Majeſty's Government againſt the Pretender and all his Adherents, whether at Home or Abroad. We know full well, that in this Profeſſion we are not more faithful to your Majeſty than to ourſelves, and our own Intereſt; and we are perſwaded, that the People of England can never act contrary to their Duty to your Majeſty in this Reſpect, till they grow tired of their Religion and their Liberty, and are willing to abandon themſelves to all the Miſeries, which, even in a diſtant View, are ſhocking to humane Nature.

That your Majeſty may long enjoy Health and Vigour to perfect the glorious Work you have undertaken, that the Succeſs may anſwer to the Juſtice and Wiſdom of your Conduct, that you may be rewarded by ſeeing Peace and Tranquility reſtored and ſettled upon a ſolid and laſting Foundation, is, and ſhall be the Prayer, and (as far as we can contribute) the Endeavour of your Loyal Univerſity of Cambridge. Given under our Common Seal, the 4th Day of March, Anno Domini 1726.

To which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to return the following moſt gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for this Dutiful and Loyal Addreſs. The Zeal and Affection which you expreſs for my Perſon and Government, are very ſeaſonable at this Juncture, and give me great Satisfaction. My Univerſity of Cambridge may be aſſured of the Continuance of my Protection, Favour and Encouragement.

His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive them very graciouſly, and they all had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital and Inferior Burgeſſes of the Borough and Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerſet, has been preſented to His Majeſty by James Smith and Abraham Elton, Eſqrs; their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Townſhend one of His Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital and inferior Burgeſſes of the Borough and Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerſet.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, being truly ſenſible of your Majeſty's wiſe and ſteady Adminiſtration, your Fatherly Care for the juſt Rights and Privileges of your People, your tender Regard for the Laws, your prudent and wiſe Steps taken for the Security and Advancement of Trade, with other ineſtimable Bleſſings that attend your Majeſty's Government, kindle in our Breaſts not only an inpreſſible Senſe of Joy, but alſo the utmoſt Abhorrence of thoſe Powers, who have ſo treacherouſly combined to invade the Peace of your Majeſty's Dominions, in peremptorily and in an hoſtile Manner demanding a Delivery of Port Mahon and Gibraltar, Places of the greateſt Importance to the Security of our Trade, and by endeavouring to impoſe a Popiſh Pretender on the Throne of theſe Realms. Wherefore we humbly preſume (as bound by the ſtricteſt Principles of Duty and Gratitude) Gratitude) to aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall be always ready, to the utmoſt of our Power, to ſupport and defend your Majeſty's Perſon, Crown and Dignity, againſt all Oppoſers whatſoever.

That your Reign may be long, happy and proſperous, that Succeſs may attend your Counſels, and Victory your Forces both by Sea and Land; that there never may be wanting one of your Royal Progeny, indued with equal Virtues, to ſucceed in theſe Dominions, are the ſincere Prayers and Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful faithful, and loyal Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Maſters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells, in the County of Somerſet, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Thomas Edwards, Jun. Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Townſhend, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Maſters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells, in the County of Somerſet.

WHILST the preſent Juncture of Affairs demands the moſt dutiful Tenders of Allegiance from all your Majeſty's loyal Subjects, Permit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, to offer our Tribute of grateful Acknowlegement for your Royal Care to continue the Proſperity of your People, and the Bleſſings we enjoy under your Majeſty's happy Adminiſtration.

We cannot without the utmoſt Reſentment and Indignation reflect upon the Dangers that threatned us from the late Confederacy of the Emperour and the King of Spain, entered upon by thoſe Powers againſt all the Obligations of Gratitude and moſt ſolemn Treaties, to ſupport an unjuſt Encroachment on our Commerce, an Attempt upon your Majeſty's moſt rightful Dominions, and the Extirpation of our moſt holy Religion.

But your Majeſty's unwearied Vigilance in the early Diſcovery of their deſtructive Schemes, the powerful Alliances you have formed, and the ſeaſonable Preparations you have made to fruſtrate their Deſigns, fill our Hearts with Joy unſpeakable; and with inexpreſſible Satisfaction as well as Admiration we behold your Majeſty demonſtrating to the World, that the Proſperity and Protection of your People is your greateſt Care and Concern.

May theſe Bleſſings of your auſpicious Reign engage every true Briton to the moſt ſteady Loyalty and Obedienee, and the firmeſt Adherence to your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon and Government, and to contribute the utmoſt of his Power in promoting your Majeſty's moſt gracious Deſigns for preſerving the Balance of Power in your Royal Hands, whoſe conſummate Wiſdom knows how to conſult the general Intereſt of Chriſtendom, whilſt it directs it to the particular Happineſs and Advantage of theſe Kingdoms.

Given under our common Seal this 25th Day of February, in the Thirteenth Year of your Majeſty's Reign.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of the City of Glouceſter, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Charles Hyett, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Berkeley, Lord-Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the County of Glouceſter. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of the City of Glouceſter, in Common-Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council-Men of this City, in Common-Council aſſembled, hold ourſelves bound in Duty and Gratitude to return our utmoſt Acknowledgments for your Majeſty's tender Care of your People, in making ſuch neceſſary Preparations as your Majeſty thought moſt Expedient, to ſecure to us our juſt Rights, and the moſt valuable Branches of our Trade.

Yet notwithſtanding the neceſſary Precautions and prudent Meaſures taken by your Majeſty to preſerve the publick Peace of your Dominions, we find there are foreign Princes hardy enough to attempt to wreſt from your Hands thoſe very Poſſeſſions yielded ed and given up to the Britiſh Nation by the moſt ſolemn Treaties.

But ſince the vehement Deſire of Dominion, is ſuch, that no Engagements can withſtand, 'tis not to be doubted but the Bravery of your Majeſty's Forces will ſoon Check that irregular Ambition which the moſt ſolemn Treaties could not ſet Bounds and Limits to.

And we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that as nothing can heighten our Reſentment more than the unjuſt Violences committed againſt your Poſſeſſions, ſo nothing can fall ſo much beneath our Contempt as the vain and impotent Threats of placing that piteous Engine of peeviſh Princes, a Popiſh Pretender, on your Majeſty's Throne.

May that Providence which manifeſtly preſides in all your Counſels, enable your Majeſty to cruſh theſe unwarrantable Hoſtilities: May our Nation and Religion never be wanting of ſuch a Prince to maintain and defend its juſt Rights againſt the pernicious Deſigns of reſtleſs and unſatisfied Princes; to which End we ſhall chearfully contribute every Thing that lyes in our Power, at the utmoſt Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes. Given under our common Seal this 8th Day of March, in the 13th Year of His Majeſty's Reign.

The following humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord-Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provoſt, Fellows, and Scholars of the College of the Holy and Undivided Trinity of Queen Elizabeth near Dublin, beg Leave to congratulate your moſt ſacred Majeſty upon your late wiſe and ſalutary Meaſures for preſerving the Rights and Poſſeſſions of Great Britain, and the Balance and Peace of Europe.

Theſe Meaſures, as they have rais'd your Majeſty to a Height of Honour unknown to your Royal Anceſtors, cannot fail, under the Divine Protection, to eſtabliſh your Throne upon the nobleſt and the firmeſt Foundations, the Affections of your own Subjects, and the Intereſts of Mankind.

From your Majeſty's provident and princely Conduct, will late Poſterity be taught the Advantage of vigorous Reſolutions, and the Wiſdom of Prevention, the true Uſe and Power of a Britiſh Fleet, and the true Character of a Britiſh Monarch, the Father of his People, the Guardian of his Allies, the Arbiter of Europe.

A Prince of this Character will ſecurely ſmile at the vain Attempts and impotent Threats of his Enemies, eſpecially when the Loſs of Trade, and ſome of its moſt valuable Securities, are made Conditions of thoſe Calamities with which his Subjects are threatned, by the ſecret Engagements entered into for impoſing a Popiſh Pretender upon theſe Kingdoms. An upright, a free, and a Proteſtant People, will never purchaſe Perjury, Slavery and Superſtition at ſuch a Price.

Whilſt other Princes would enlarge their Empire at the Expence of the moſt ſacred Ties, and the moſt ſolemn Engagements, and are buſied in deviſing how to diſturb their Neighbour States by inſolent Threats and unjuſt Demands, by invading their Property and interrupting their Commerce, urg'd on thro' Impotence of Power, and the Glare of falſe Glory, to project Calamity and Ruin all around them; be it your Majeſty's peculiar Praiſe to protect and to preſerve; to make the Happineſs of Mankind the Rule and the Bound of your Ambition, by effectual Proviſions for War to ſeek Peace and to enſue it, to hold at once the Scales and the Sword of Juſtice, and in ſo doing, to approve yourſelf the true Vicegerent of that God who ſitteth upon the Circle of the Heavens, and divideth to the Nations their Inheritance; who, when he ariſeth in Judgment, the Earth feareth and is ſtill.

To the Protection of this great and gracious God we commit your Majeſty, with fervent Prayers for your Preſervation and Proſperity, and with ſincere Aſſurances of inviolable Affection and Allegiance to your Perſon and Government, both which we ſhall be ever careful to evidence, in our Practice and in our Precepts, and in every Endeavour of dutiful and loyal Subjects, for the perpetual Eſtabliſhment of your Throne.

The

The following humble Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council aſſembled, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and faithful Subjects humbly beg Leave to expreſs our dutiful Senſe of your Majeſty's continual Care, in ſecuring the undoubted Privileges and Commerce of your People, and the Tranquility of Europe againſt the unjuſt and ungrateful Attempts of thoſe Powers, who have grown formidable by your Majeſty's Friendſhip, and the Blood and Treaſure of your Subjects.

We ſee with Pleaſure the Check your Majeſty has given to their Ambition, by the Wiſdom of your Counſels, the Terror of your Fleets, and the Strength of your Alliances; and thoſe who have entred into Engagements againſt theſe Nations may be convinced, that they can form no Schemes ſo ſecret, as to eſcape your Majeſty's Vigilance, and that as oft as they Project Invaſions of your Majeſty's Dominions, they will be reduced to a Neceſſity of defending their own.

The wiſe and prudent Diſpoſition of your Naval Forces, by which your Majeſty has been able to diſconcert the Meaſures, formed and carried on againſt the Peace and Repoſe of your Realms; and to render the Treaſures of the Indies altogether uſeleſs to thoſe Powers, who had entred into Treaties deſtructive to the Liberties of Europe, muſt ſatisfy the World how vain their Projects are, who, contrary to the moſt ſolemn Treaties, and in Violation of the higheſt Obligations have invaded the Rights and Privileges of your People in the moſt important Branches of their Commerce, and peremptorily demanded the Reſtitution of Gibraltar, and the Iſland of Minorca, indiſputably belonging to the Crown of Great Britain.

We, who at this Diſtance find your Majeſty's Goodneſs as extenſive, as other Nations have found your Power, and who have in Remembrance the evil and deſtructive Effects of Popery and arbitrary Power, more ſeverely felt by us of this Kingdom, than by the reſt of our fellow Subjects, beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we are animated with the utmoſt Zeal for your Service, and have the greateſt Abhorrence and Deteſtation of every Attempt, that ſhall be made in favour of the Pretender. And that we ſhall upon all Occaſions be ready with our Lives and Fortunes to defend your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, and the Succeſſion in your Royal Houſe; as the only Security of our happy Conſtitution both in Church and State. In Teſtimony whereof we have cauſed the common Seal of the ſaid City to be hereto affixed this 28th Day of February, 1726.
